Immigration, recruitment and employer solutions

A practical staffing solution for hospitality

1881 Global Mobility supports New Zealand employers by placing international hospitality interns to fill seasonal and ongoing staffing gaps. Employers receive a screened, role-matched shortlist with end-to-end support from selection through arrival.

If you are planning seasonal staffing or building a reliable hospitality talent pipeline, this programme operates under the following structure:

- No Employer Accreditation required
- No Job Check required
- Roles are paid at New Zealand minimum wage
- Interns hold a Student and Trainee Work Visa tied to their employer

What you get

- Reliable intake of motivated interns for peak periods
- Screened shortlists matched to your role requirements
- No employer accreditation or Job Check required
- Fast coordination of interviews, selection, and onboarding
- Ongoing post-arrival support for smooth placements

Who the interns are

- Diploma or degree-level hospitality and tourism students
- Completing mandatory industry placements
- Focused on practical experience & long-term hospitality careers

Visa Pathway: Supported through NZ student and trainee work visa pathways.

How the programme works for employers

- Share roles, start window, and roster
- Candidates sourced and screened via education partners
- Interview and select from a shortlist
- We coordinate confirmations and arrival
- Ongoing post-arrival check-ins and support

Roles interns can support

- Front office and guest services
- Reception support
- Guest relations support
- Reservations support
- Food and beverage
- Restaurant and café service support
- Bar service & Laundry support
- Events and functions support
- Barista support
